University of Toronto.

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE.

During the short time that has elapsed since the University Schools were established they have won for themselves a good name. Their attendance has been even greater than was anticipated, and the attendance, the character of the boys & the quality of their work have already produced an excellent school spirit. Of course time is required to give a school its own individuality, but the old boys already have a pride in their school and have established such good traditions, that it only remains for us to look forward with confidence to their successors to strengthen these, & by their scholarship, their healthful activities and integrity adding to the good name of the school so that it will be regarded as an honour to belong to it.
